

XM Radio is a vital part of the broadcast community and all of its services and programming should be welcomed onto the airwaves. None of its programming including weather and traffic should be stifled.